Notifying changes to lobbyists' details: The Integrity Act 2009 (the Act) provides that a registered lobbyist must submit updated lobbyist's details to the Queensland Integrity Commissioner following any change to the lobbyist's details as soon as practicable but no more than ten (10) business days after the change occurs.

This form allows lobbyists to notify of changes to the lobbyist's details shown in the Register, as required by the Act, and to notify of other changes to their registration details (e.g. contact details and the nominated contact officer).

Lobbyists should use this form to notify the Integrity Commissioner of any changes in the lobbyists' details or other registration details. An on-line application form is available, otherwise the form can be faxed, emailed or posted as set out at the end of this page.

You need to complete only those sections of part 2 of the form for which your details are different from the details held by the Integrity Commissioner for publication in the Register or for administrative purposes.

Please note that when a lobbyist notifies the Integrity Commissioner about a new employee, this form must be accompanied by a statutory declaration as required under the Integrity Act 2009.

Note: the statutory declaration must be made pursuant to the legislation applicable in the State or Territory in which the declaration is made. For example, a person making a statutory declaration in Queensland should use the Queensland statutory declaration form, which is provided on the Integrity Commissioner's website. Likewise, a person making a statutory declaration in New South Wales must use the form prescribed by New South Wales legislation.

The Commissioner reserves the right to refuse to change the lobbyist's details as requested by the lobbyist, in accordance with the grounds for refusing an application set out in the Act.

Before completing this form, please read the chapter 4 of the Integrity Act 2009 and the Lobbyists Code of Conduct. It is also suggested that you retain a copy of your submitted form for your records.

Please note that contact information, such as postal and street addresses, telephone numbers and email addresses, will not be placed on the public register. It should be noted, however, that this information may be liable for disclosure under the Right to Information 2009 Act.

Privacy statement: The personal information on this form is collected by the Integrity Commissioner as required under the Integrity Act 2009 for the primary purpose of fulfilling the requirements of the Act with regard to registration as a lobbyist.

Except as otherwise required or authorised by law, the personal information collected through this form will only be used for registration purposes. Information concerning you, your employees and your clients will be made publicly available for inspection on the Register of Lobbyists located at www.integrity.qld.gov.au. The following personal information may be seen by any person with access to this website::

- the business registration details, including the names of owners, partners or major shareholders, as applicable;
- the names and positions of persons employed, contracted or otherwise engaged by the lobbyist to carry out lobbying activities;
- the names of third parties for whom the lobbyist is currently retained to provide paid or unpaid services as a lobbyist;
- the names of persons for whom the lobbyist has provided paid or unpaid services as a lobbyist during the previous twelve months; and
- · the names of persons who are former senior government representatives within State, Commonwealth and local government.

A lobbyist should only provide personal information about their individual clients or employees with the permission of those individuals. A failure to provide all the necessary personal information will, however, prevent the application being considered. Applicants should rely on their own inquiries about the impact of seeking registration on their existing privacy obligations (if any).

Lobbyists are required by law to apply for inclusion on the Register. Lobbyists who are not listed in the Register are prohibited from lobbying government representatives.

Any information that does not fit on this form can be attached. If you have any queries about the form or the Register, please call 07 3224 6857.

Lodgement: Completed forms can be submitted to the Queensland Integrity Commissioner by emailing them to lobbyistsregister@qld.gov.au (preferred option). Alternatively, they can be sent by fax to (07) 3224 2326 or posted to:
